THE GENEALOGY

OLDFATHER FAMILY

COMPILED BY

*Peace to the just man's memory—let it grow
Greener with years, and blossom through the flight
Of ages; let the mimic canvas show
His calm benevolent features; let the light
Stream on his deeds of love, that shun the sight
Of all but heaven, and, in the book of fame,
The glorious record of his virtues write,
And hold it up to men, and bid them claim
A palm like his, and catch from him the hallowed flame.*

APOLOGY

TENDENCY of modern times has been too much towards the individualistic family without the supporting background of relatives and traditions. The patriarchal families played a more important part in the development of lofty characters and high ideals in government and society than we are accustomed to accredit to them. The veneration of our forefathers is not snobbery, but rather the looking towards those who most delighted in our being for proper standards and incentives.

When children lose respect and reverence for their parents and no longer cherish the memory of those bound to them by ties of consanguinity, they cast aside the chart and compass that is of superlative importance in life's voyage. We are debtors to all who have gone before us, and our most valuable inheritance is not the blood that flows in our veins, but the standards that our fathers have set for us and the expectations they have constantly held for us.

Therefore, the desire to keep green the memory of those to whom we owe most for life's successes and happiness, is the only apology we have for the existence of this volume.

EXPLANATORY

ABOUT the year 1769 twenty heads of families left Berlin, Germany, for America, where they hoped to have greater civil liberty and especially greater freedom in the worship of God according to their own views of the Scriptures. Six months were spent on the slow sailing vessel which landed them in Baltimore, Maryland. From here they pushed their way to Hagerstown, Maryland, and thence probably by the way of Cumberland, Maryland, to what was then known as Bedford County, Pennsylvania, where they laid out a town and named it Berlin, after the home they had left. Bedford County was later divided and this portion of the county was called Somerset. The charter to this town was dated 1784.

The names of the twenty heads of families were as follows: Jacob Geideler, Jacob Keffer, John Nicholas, Peter Kober, Valentine Laudt, Peter Loeble, Jacob Fischer, Frank Hay, Walter Heil, Jacob Glessner, Henry Glessner, Peter Glessner, Friedrich Altvater, John Eidenege, Peter Sweitzer, Michael Boger, Godfrey Knepper, Peter Weigerly, Nicholas Foust and Nicholas Miller.

At this time most of the land in the valley that is now known as "Brother's Valley" was taken up by farmers. However, 40 acres and 80 perches were still open around an ever flowing spring called "Fromme Quelle" or "Pious Spring." For this land they obtained a warrant in the name of Jacob Keffer, who in turn deeded it, one half to the Lutheran Church and one half to the Reformed Church. Accordingly, when the lots were laid out, Lot No. 1 was assigned to the Reformed Church and Lot No. 2 to the Lutheran Church, and so on. Every owner of a lot was to pay an annual quit rent of one dollar for church and school purposes, the schools being in connection with the churches. From that date to the present these two churches have received this quit rent.

The records of the Reformed Church date back to 1777, which show the first elders to be Friedrich Altvater and Jacob Glessner, and the first deacons to be John Ziegler and Arndt Grissinger. These records are all written in German. From that date to the present some of the Altfathers and their connection have been among the most able supporters of the Reformed Church in Berlin. The records contain the names of all those who communed each Easter and the Altfathers were always found in this list.

There is still existing a birth certificate of Henry Oldfather (See A, Page 9), which is written in German. The following is a translation of the certificate:

"Heinrich Altvater was born in the year of our Lord 1770, on the 23rd of October. The parents are Friedrich Altvater and his wedded wife Magdalena, nee Freundschin. His dear parents themselves were sponsors. This token was given him by his grandfather Heinrich Gerlach together with his dear grandmother Magdalena Gerlachin as a perpetual remembrance. Done in York County, Straszbery Township, in the Province of Pennsylvania. Written in Washington County in the Province of Maryland, the 26th day of May in the year 1786."

This certificate was very neatly printed by hand, in German, and about it was a drawing in colors in the shape of a heart. In the four corners are smaller hearts in which were written verses of poetry of a highly religious character. On the reverse side of the certificate are written in German script, probably by the hand of Henry Oldfather, all the names and birthdays of his children excepting Solomon and Adam, the two youngest.

There seems to be an inconsistency in the certificate when it speaks of the parents being "Friedrich Altvater and his wedded wife Magdalena, nee Freundschin"; and then tells of his grandparents Heinrich Gerlach and Magdalena Gerlachin. There seems to be but one explanation for this. His maternal grandfather must have died and his grandmother then married Heinrich Gerlach. The feminine "in" ending of Freundschi and Gerlachin is old German and is no longer in use. The "sch" should be dropped from Freundschi and written Freund, which is German for Friend.

Friedrich Altvater, whose name heads this Genealogy, died at Berlin, Pennsylvania, and he and his wife were buried in the burying ground on their farm. They were the parents of eight children. The eldest, Henry (see A), moved to Ohio about 1811, settling on a farm one mile south of Farmersville, Montgomery County. Here he conducted a flour and saw mill on the banks of Twin Creek. Four of the children settled on adjoining farms near Warnock, Belmont County, Ohio, namely, Mary Ann Keefer (See B), Elizabeth Stonebraker (See C), Adam Aultfather (See G), and Jacob Aultfather (See H). The four farms on which they lived included something more than 800 acres. Magdalena Schaff (See D) settled near Etna, Licking County, Ohio.

The original Friedrich Altvater lived on his farm of 389 acres situated about two miles from Berlin, Pa. The ownership of this farm descended to his son Frederick Aultfather (See E, Page 114), and then to his son Daniel (See II, Page 116). After this the farm was divided and is now owned by John Glessner and Harry Altfather of the family connection and by a coal mining company. The first house was built on the part now owned by Glessner, and here is the family burying ground in which are buried Friedrich Altvater and his wife Magdalena. The graves are marked with plain stones without any inscription. Here also are buried Frederick Altfather (See E, Page 114) with his first wife Barbara, and his second wife Catharine. Susanna Glessner (See I, Page 114) and Daniel Altfather (See II, Page 116) are also buried here. These graves are plainly marked with inscriptions. In 1793-94 Frederick, Sr., and Frederick, Jr., built a flour mill on the part of the farm where the mining town McDonalton now is. Eva Ziegler (See F) lived and died in Stony Creek Township, Somerset County, Pennsylvania. Neither Eva nor Jacob had any children.

Henry and wife were buried in the cemetery of the Reformed church at Farmersville, Ohio. Adam and wife, Mary Ann and husband and Elizabeth and husband were buried in family burying grounds on their farms near Warnock, Ohio. Jacob and wife were buried in Concord cemetery near Armstrong Mills, Belmont County, Ohio.

Henry and Catharine Oldfather were the parents of eleven children. John (I Page 9) lived and died on the old home farm south of Farmersville, Ohio. Henry (II Page 20) must have died in infancy. The only knowledge we have of him is recorded on the back of the old birth certificate already quoted. There is nothing said of him except the name and date of birth. Magdalena Isley (III Page 21) lived near Edinburg, Indiana; Elizabeth Siler (IV Page 40), near St. Paul, Indiana; Frederick (V Page 49), four miles south of Farmersville, Ohio; Samuel (VI Page 54), near Farmersville, Ohio; Peter (VII Page 62), near Lewisburg, Ohio; Eva Kyger (VIII Page 68), near Frankfort, Indiana; Jonathan (IX Page 75), in Knox County, Missouri, and Solomon (X Page 85) and Adam (XI Page 86), near Warsaw, Indiana.

The spelling of names has undergone a marked evolution during the past one hundred years. The spelling on the old church records in Berlin, Pennsylvania, was "Altvater" in German. Later the name was spelled "Altfather," and in Belmont County, Ohio, Adam changed the name to "Aultfather," although Jacob, living neighbor to him, spelled it "Altfather." In Montgomery County, Ohio, Henry began the spelling of the name "Oldfather." The name "Schaff" was first spelled "Schaff" in "Schoff," then "Shaff," and later "Schaff." "Stonebraker" was formerly "Steinbrecher," in German. Samuel Stonebraker (C Page 103) came originally from Hagerstown, Maryland. He was married first to Elizabeth Altfather and after her death to Barbara Barr, to whom were born nine children, the fourth child being Andrew Stonebraker (See (II) Page 96). It is probable that Caspar Keefer (B Page 89) is a descendant of Jacob Keffer whose name is mentioned among the twenty who came originally from Germany.

The Oldfathers have been pioneers. When Friedrich Altvater settled in Pennsylvania, he was a pioneer, and when his children settled in Ohio, they were pioneers. They were pioneers in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and now in many points in the West.

The name Oldfather has been given to this Genealogy because that name is a literal and complete translation of the original "Altvater," "Altfather" being a translation of but half of the name.

The relationship may be easily determined from the figures and letters used before the names. At the head of the Genealogy is the name "Friedrich Altvater." His first child is Henry Oldfather, marked "A." The second child is Mary Ann Altfather who married Caspar Keefer, marked "B." Therefore the names marked A. B. C. etc., are brothers and sisters and children of Friedrich Altvater. Then I, II, III, IV, etc., are children of A, B, C, etc. To understand it better, look in the index for the name you know best and the index will refer you to the page on which that name occurs. Then study the letters and figures used before these names and you will understand the relationship of all other families. Women are always indexed under the maiden name.

This Genealogy was compiled between the years 1903 and 1911. In most instances the manuscript was made in carbon copies which were returned to friends for proof reading. By this method errors have been reduced to a minimum. The purpose of this volume is to present only a Genealogy and in no sense is it a eulogy or a series of biographical sketches. It was not always easy to determine the correct spelling of given names, but we have followed what seemed to be the most trustworthy reports that were sent in.
